MAY GOD ASSIST HIM

2026 CAF Women’s Champions League: HM the King Congratulates FAR Football Club Following Their Victory

His Majesty King Mohammed VI, may God assist Him, sent a message of congratulations to the members of the AS FAR women’s football club, crowned African champions after winning the 2026 African Football Confederation Women’s Champions League on Sunday in Egypt.

In this message, HM the King expresses His warm congratulations to the members of the AS FAR women’s football club for winning the CAF Women’s Champions League, hosted by brotherly country Egypt.

"On this joyous occasion, I wish to express My immense pride in this African football feat, the second in a row and the third of its kind for your prestigious club," the Sovereign emphasizes, lauding the efforts of all members of the team, including players, managers, and technical and administrative staff, as well as the technical skills, sportsmanship, and strong competitive spirit they showcased, thereby confirming the strong presence of Moroccan clubs and their leadership on the continental stage.

Reiterating His congratulations and best wishes to all members of the team and its fans for this title, which does honor to national women’s football and Moroccan sports in general, His Majesty the King implores the Most-High to grant them further success and titles at various continental and international events, while assuring them of His High Care and Consideration.
